RE: Tyana Lawless

To Whom It May Concern,

Tyana Lawless has trained with me periodically for over 10yrs. Tyana participates in the discipline of dressage and has trained and competed to FEI Grand Prix.

During this time, Tyana has demonstrated on a variety of horses the capability of training young to FEI level dressage horses for International competition. She has an extensive knowledge and understanding of the training scale for the development of sustainable performance horses required for elite level competition.

Tyana has completed at both a State and National level in Australia and represented Australia at an Invitational dressage competition in New Delhi, India in 2006. Tyana has the dedication, commitment and capability as a participant for International level competition in dressage.

Tyana is able to adapt training schedules to suit the individual ability of the horse which facilitates the development of the horse to its full potential. In particular she has a defined skill and talent training and correcting issues with flying changes.

I wish Tyana the best with her endeavors and future in the sport of dressage.
